

What to Do...

If you are thinking about leaving a gift to The Nasio Trust in your Will, the best thing to do is see your solicitor. They will advise you on how to write, or amend, your Will and how to make a gift to charities like The Nasio Trust. There are a number of ways you might want to remember The Nasio Trust in your Will, but these are the main ones:

- 1.) Pecuniary Legacy This is when you leave a specific sum, such as £1,000, to a beneficiary. If you currently sponsor a child and would like to continue this sponsorship so that he or she can complete their primary and secondary education, you can leave a Pecuniary bequest of £6,000.
- 2.) Residuary Legacy. This is what is left, once you have identified all those parties who are to receive specific sums. This usually takes the form of a percentage share of an estate, or an entire estate, that you would like to give to a good cause that is important to you. Did you know, by gifting 10% of your estate to charity your Inheritance tax rate will reduce from 40% to 36% on the entire estate.
- 3.) Specific Legacy A particular named item left as a gift in your Will, is known as a specific bequest, for example a piece of jewellery.

What your Gift could do

£500

Fund healthcare for a year for 10 families so they can get help when they need it

£600

Fund 15 widow's startup projects to help them break the cycle of poverty

£800

Provide 80 mosquito nets to save young lives from the scourge of malaria

£900

Pay for 10 bunk beds and give 20 children a good night's sleep as they grow

£1,500

Cover the wages of a nurse for 6 months so she can save lives and prevent disease through education

£3,000

Supply 10 rain-water collection systems to give communities fresh water

£10,000

Build over 14 family homes to give warmth and shelter for years to come

Or, if you currently sponsor a child

You can express that you would like to continue sponsorship through leaving a lump sum of £6,000 to sustain your child's health & education until the age of 18.

Don't forget, the value of your legacy gift can be increased by 25% as long as you are still a UK tax payer at the point of your passing.

Dear Supporter,

Having an up-to-date Will is vital in ensuring your assets are given over to your loved ones in a way you are happy with. It is, however, also a perfect opportunity to help a charity or cause important to you. A legacy gift to charity is free from inheritance tax and can reduce your overall inheritance tax rate from 40% to 36%.

Leaving a gift to the Nasio Trust in your Will can make a transformational difference to our charity, which aims to support vulnerable children and empower communities in western Kenya. A legacy gift could make a sizeable impact, bringing us closer to realising our vision by eliminating the problem of HIV orphans in western Kenya and ultimately breaking the cycle of poverty in the region.

We hope this leaflet will show you that updating your will need not be complex and time consuming and that you are inspired to contribute to our life saving projects.

About The Nasio Trust

We believe that children are better supported growing up in a family than in an institution isolated from their community. We find guardians for our orphans so they have a parent-figure and extended network in the community. Our Early Childhood Development centres support the guardians by providing a daily meal, pre-primary education and medical care to around 400 children.

The intake at both centres increases by 40 children a year and some of the early intake are now in higher education or work. Without the support of the Nasio Trust, the reality for these children would either be death, or incredibly uncertain and unstable futures with little prospect of an education or employment.

The Nasio model is scalable so when a community can stand on its own and we have funds, we can move on to another deprived area.

Why the Nasio Trust?

The Nasio Trust creates sustainable, long-term community change by tackling the root causes of poverty in this region. A gift in your Will could enable us to expand our reach across western Kenya by replicating our proven model in new communities.

We have forged a strong partnership network with organisations who share similar values and we will continue to work with our partners to maximise our impact in the region. We give our support, training and expertise to the establishment of our sustainable projects, including; food production, income generation, child development/ education, and improving health awareness.

Your gift could help us to achieve our goals by empowering communities to become self-sufficient and in doing so transforming the lives of thousands of orphans.

Our Vision: To empower communities to help break the cycle of poverty.
